To Whom It May Concern:

Re: Greg Leeder Homes

Greg Leeder Homes undertook the construction of Oceans Church in Albany which was completed in on time and on budget in June 2018.

As the project manager for the building I worked closely with Greg Leeder Homes during both the planning and construction phase.

Greg Leeder Homes communicated in a timely and professional manner throughout the building process and any concerns or issues identified were managed innovatively and always in the best interest of us as the client.

Given the nature of the building, there were many times that we required changes to the design to accommodate additional unplanned needs and Greg Leeder Homes always responded with solutions that were both cost effective and met our design brief.

The construction of our facility was of a high quality and this was due to the workmanship and trades that were used during the building process.

Greg Leeder Homes always kept us informed of progress and we were impressed with the overall build time particularly given the weather conditions during the winter months.

The staff of Greg Leeder Homes have a thorough product knowledge and were always informative and extremely helpful when it came to fittings furnishings and other equipment needed to finalise the building.

In summary Oceans Church are very satisfied with the nature and the quality of our facility and would highly recommend Greg Leeder Homes for any multi - million dollar building project that may be both challenging and complex in the design and/or construction.
